

Cross-Over Adjustment

1. Place the cross-over image twice with the same coordinates
2. Close each picture box to the fold so that there is one photo placed on each page, but still appear to cross-over.
3. Move the entire picture box away from the gutter so you are left with 1/8" of white between the edge of the picture box and the fold on each page.

4. Open each picture box to the fold. You will then have double image in the center which will be hidden after binding.

Note: Be careful not to get live image too close to the face trim
